

being such a small school, to get the correct numbers needed for teams and we often had to pull out.

Teachers planned and taught PE using schemes as a guide. They were offered courses to support subject knowledge where needed but due to lack of funding not many were attended. Resources were limited which impacted the quality of lessons taught.

As a result of the funding and extra CPD, we have worked alongside experienced and specialist sports coaches to enhance the provision of PE lessons in school. Teachers were provided with cpd once a week. This has helped the class teachers, who are non-specialists, improve and develop their subject knowledge in all areas of the PE curriculum and develop their ability to differentiate lessons for all abilities, including those with SEN and G and T children.

Back in July 2013, the staff was asked to complete a skills audit and suggest areas that they felt they would benefit from working with a specialist. Dance, gymnastics and athletics were identified. In July 2014, the staff were asked once again to evaluate PE at our school and feedback upon their skills and capabilities. All members of teaching staff commented on how much they had enjoyed and benefitted from the sessions this year and the impact upon their subject knowledge for lesson planning. Pupils were also asked to complete a questionnaire as to their views on PE provision at school. They too recognised the improvements in lessons both subject knowledge and enjoyment.

From both the pupil and staff questionnaires and audits, we have identified the following areas to be targeted for September 2014:

- More competition - both intra and inter
- Staff training on inclusion
- Staff training on assessment
- Improved resources. - making sure all teachers are aware of what we have and how they can be used and stored.

We feel that as a school, the funding has greatly improved our PE provision.

We recognise that competition is still an issue. This year we have attempted to organise our own inter school competitions, contacting other local schools, but this has not been successful and is something we are going to work on next year.

Due to the current PE Manager going off on maternity leave, we have employed a PE advisor, Judith Gilmour, to take on the role in September. The present action planning has been done in collaboration to allow for a smooth transition and to ensure that we continue to move forward in PE.
